What is the Second Stage Housing Program?

Second Stage Housing is an independent living, transitional program that focuses on women and their children that have experienced gender based violence. The program has a focus of healing, connection and support from staff, and safe housing. Once an application is received, a Discovery Conversation will be had to determine if the Second Stage Program is a suitable fit for a woman's needs and goals. If/once accepted to the program, the woman would be placed on the waitlist and be notified when a space in the program becomes available.

The Second Stage Program provides secured entry, rent geared to income apartments for up to one year. One, two and three bedroom apartments are available in Goderich, Clinton and Exeter. Apartments are non-furnished but are equipped with a fridge and stove, and there are free shared laundry facilities at each site. The Second Stage Program is not an emergency, long term or a high security program.

You will experience a safe, non-judgmental environment with support staff available and links to community support services while in the program. To ensure security and safety of everyone, we have implemented the following rules that all residents must adhere to:

- No male visitors 16 years of age and older
- No abuse of any kind on property
- No smoking in building or individual apartments
- Confidentiality must be upheld
- Identified abusers (male or female) are not permitted on property

Please email completed applications to the Second Stage Housing Program at SSHreferral@huronwomensshelter.com , fax to 519-524-1490 or drop off at the Emergency Shelter location.
